

Fighting for Those Who Cannot Fight for Themselves

ZOE Children's Homes (Zoe means LIFE) is committed to stopping child trafficking, as well as the rescue of orphans and children in harm's way, while raising global awareness of the growing human trafficking. They are dedicated to providing aftercare homes that offer hope and a future to those rescued.

Mission

ZOE Children's Homes is an international Christian organization that rescues children who are sold, or at risk of being sold, into prostitution slavery; orphaned, or victims of other heinous crimes and abuse.

Values

To be an effective participant in ending human trafficking of children worldwide, and to go wherever children are at risk, to provide rescue, a hope and a future for them.

Their commitment to these children is long-term. 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year, they support and provide the children all the basic necessities of life. This includes, but is not limited to nurture, meals, shelter, education, hygiene items, medical, dental and emergency care, clothing and shoes.

They are in the process of raising money to acquire, develop and build a new facility to support 500-plus children. They have Thai nationals as full time staff, childcare workers, and translators, as well volunteers from outside nations.

Their plan and vision is to develop this larger facility with a homelike atmosphere; a working farm to serve the children and the community; educational facilities, vocational training, athletic equipment, etc.

As this plan is executed and succeeds in opening opportunities for their children in Thailand, they will duplicate it in other nations dealing with the human trafficking issue amongst children.
